ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

First, I would like to recognize Dr. Harold A. Lerch for his major contributions to the first edition. The University of Florida's George A. Smathers Libraries have provided invaluable resources and dedicated librarians. Carl Van Ness University Archivist and other members of the Department of Special Collections, including Joyce Dewsbury and James Liversidge were especially helpful in locating pictures. Associate Librarian Dr. John Van Hook's computer research skills and Senior Library Technical Assistant Jo Talbird's answers to my many questions enabled me to save a great deal of time. Archivist Mary Wisneski located important data and citation information. I am also indebted to Bill and DeEtta Hanssen for their computer and photographic skills. Associate Athletic Director for Sports Information Mary Howard reviewed and made available her vast collection of photographs and I am thankful for her assistance.

Although history does not change, opportunities to read previously unavailable primary sources provides a more complete and objective view of the past. Since the second edition, I have learned more about intercollegiate sport and its influence on the academy, the emergence of sport management as an academic discipline, the Olympic movement, Title IX, and governance of national and international sport organizations.

Others who have assisted in this project include my colleagues from the College of Health and Human Performance, Dr. Ruth Alexander and Dr. Sue Whiddon. They readily offered their time and expertise. Dr. Julie Dodd, College of Journalism and Communication and Colonial Jeanne Picariello, US Army (retired) sent numerous journal articles and recommended pertinent data. Kane Alexander's meticulous review of the manuscript was especially beneficial. Finally, I am thankful for my friends, family, and colleagues who expressed their interest and encouragement in this project.
